Active Bystander Skills

Organizational Change From the Ground Up

Objectives of Workshop
- Know the difference between an active and a passive bystander
- Learn the dos and don’ts of being an active bystander
- Explore and practice creative options for being an active bystander in a range of personal, work, and public settings

Trainer: Dr. Maia Hallward

Maia Hallward is a Professor in the School of Conflict Management, Peacebuilding and Development at KSU and Editor of the Journal of Peacebuilding and Development. She has lived and researched extensively in the Middle East and has traveled to five continents. Professor Hallward has taught courses in cross-cultural dialogue connected to the Soliya program, is part of the Atlanta chapter of the Alternatives to Violence Program (AVP), and is author or co-author of five books and over twenty peer-reviewed articles on topics including nonviolence, peacebuilding, human rights, the role of religion in politics, women’s leadership, and the Israeli-Palestinian conflict.

Dates & Locations
- October 19, 2018, 11AM-1PM
  Kennesaw Campus
  Kennesaw Hall 1302
- November 9, 2018, 11AM-1PM
  Marietta Campus
  J.M. Student Center A214

Cost
- General Public: $50.00
- USG Employees: $35.00

KSUConflict ccm.kennesaw.edu 470-578-6115