Course Description
This course explores major themes in the social, cultural, political, and economic history of the United States since 1877, the multicultural nature of contemporary U.S. civilization, and the nation’s role in the global arena.

Through lectures, discussions, and readings, we examine the history of the United States from Reconstruction through the modern era. We investigate the multicultural nature of the United States, the challenges of expansion and globalization, and increasing tensions over American values and identities.

Learning Objectives
HIST 2112 satisfies one of Kennesaw State University’s general education program requirements. It addresses the U.S. Perspectives general education learning outcome(s).
The learning outcome states: Students identify the historical, political, social, or institutional developments of the United States. For more information about KSU’s General Education program requirements and associated learning outcomes, please visit the course catalog.

Required Books
Michael P. Johnson. Reading the American Past: Selected Historical Documents, v. 2. 5th
Various readings make available through d2l or published online.

Electronic Communication
The University provides all KSU students with an official email account with the address “students.kennesaw.edu”. As a result of federal laws protecting educational information and other data, this is the sole email account you should use to communicate with your instructor or other University officials.
Attendance Policy
Students are solely responsible for managing their enrollment status in a class. Non-attendance does not constitute a withdrawal. Attendance will be taken at every class session. The instructor reserves the right to take attendance verbally, through activities, or in written form. Students may miss up to four classes for any reason without penalty. No distinction is made between excused and unexcused absences. Arriving late, leaving early, taking breaks, and disrupting the class may count as an absence.

Evaluation Criteria
Students are evaluated on the following scale:
- A: 90.0-100%
- B: 80.0-89.9%
- C: 70.0-79.9%
- D: 60.0-69.9%
- F: 0-59.9%
- I: indicates an incomplete grade for the course and will only be awarded only when the student has done satisfactory work up to the last two weeks of the semester, but for nonacademic reasons beyond his/her control is unable to meet the full requirements of the course. Incomplete grades are only valid after submission of the Incomplete Grade form (signed by both the instructor and student) to the Department Chair’s office.

Course Policies

Late Assignments: Assignments are due on D2L at the beginning of lecture on Friday. If the student is unable to turn in an electronic copy for some reason, the student must bring a hard copy to class and submit an electronic copy within 24 hours to avoid forfeiting credit for the assignment.

Make-up Exams: If arranged beforehand, make-up opportunities will be provided at the instructor’s discretion for documented medical or other emergencies.

Electronic Devices Policy: The use of electronic devices is permitted only for note-taking during lectures. Keep in mind that your classmates can and will be easily distracted. To maintain proper standing in the class, silence your cellphones and put away all electronic devices including (but not limited to) cellphones, iPods, cameras, recording devices, etc. The use of electronic devices is not permitted during examinations.

Academic Integrity: The high quality of education at Kennesaw State University is reflected in the credits and degrees its students earn. The protection of high standards of academic integrity is crucial since the validity and equity of the University’s grades and degrees depend on it. Breach of academic integrity includes, but is not limited to, any type of fraud or misrepresentation. Students suspected of violating the KSU Statement of Academic Honesty will meet with the instructor to discuss the violation and will be reported to the Department of Student Conduct and Academic Integrity. Any violation may result in failure of the course.

Communication Policy: Please come and talk to me if you have any questions about the course or the course content. I am available during my office hours and by appointment. I can also be easily reached by email and do my best to respond to email within 24 hours during the workweek. (Emails or other requests for a grade increase, credit for late work, or other random acts of mercy will be ignored.)

Professional Courtesy: Civil communication is essential to ensure broad participation among students. To ensure discussions remain informative and respectful, please exercise professional courtesy. Students are expected to participate in discussions in a respectful manner, being courteous, kind, forgiving, and free from profane and offensive language. Personal attacks, insults, and threats will not be tolerated and may result in a failing participation grade or removal from the course at the instructor's discretion.

Institutional Policies

- Academic Affairs: Federal, Board of Regents, and KSU Policies
- Academic Affairs: KSU Student Resources

Additional Student Rights and Responsibilities can be found in the Student Handbook.

Academic Integrity Statement

Every KSU student is responsible for upholding the provisions of the Student Code of Conduct, published in the Undergraduate and Graduate Catalogs. Section 5c of the Student Code of Conduct addresses the university's policy on academic honesty, including provisions regarding plagiarism and cheating, unauthorized access to university materials, misrepresentation/falsification of university records or academic work, malicious removal, retention, or destruction of library materials, malicious/intentional misuse of computer facilities and/or services, and misuse of student identification cards. In this course, incidents of alleged academic misconduct will be handled through the established procedures of the Department of Student Conduct and Academic Integrity (SCAI), which includes either an informal resolution by a faculty member, resulting in a grade adjustment, or a formal hearing procedure, which may subject a student to the Code of Conduct's minimum one semester suspension requirement.

ADA Compliance

Students with qualifying disabilities under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and/or Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act who require “reasonable accommodation(s)” to complete the course may request those from Department of Student Success Services. Students requiring such accommodations are required to work with the University's Department of Student Success Services rather than engaging in this discussion with individual faculty members or academic departments. If, after reviewing the course syllabus, a student anticipates or should have anticipated a need for accommodation, he or she must submit documentation requesting an accommodation and permitting time for a determination prior to submitting assignments or taking course quizzes or exams. Students may not request retroactive accommodation for needs that were or should have been foreseeable. Students should contact the office as soon as possible in the term for which they are seeking accommodations. For more information please visit their website, http://sds.kennesaw.edu/

Additional Items
Course Structure: This course meets for lecture or discussion on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays for 50 minutes. On days marked “workshop,” I will lead the class through several activities that will focus on the given topic to practice the craft of history.

Exams: Exams will consist of multiple-choice questions. Key terms for each week are posted to d2l in a weekly study guide and will be covered during lecture. Exam questions will be based on the key terms, important people, and themes discussed in class as well as the assigned readings. The final exam will be cumulative.

Sourcebook Readings: Each week, readings from Michael Johnson’s Reading the American Past or online sources are assigned. We will alternate between in-class discussions and short homework assignments to give you the opportunity to practice engaging with and analyzing primary documents. On the four weeks when a response paper is due, reading questions will be posted on d2l in the weekly study guide. Response papers are due at the beginning of designated classes on Friday via d2l. Late homework will not be accepted.

Changes to the Syllabus
The instructor reserves the right to make changes to this syllabus. Any substantive changes which impact grade calculations or grading will be announced in writing using D2L and will be emailed to the class. If you have concerns about announced changes, please contact the instructor and ask for clarification before the end of the semester.
