MAPW STUDENT'S VIDEO FEATURED IN USA TODAY ARTICLE

MAPW student Zachary Zoeller's video for Atlanta Dream Center, an anti human trafficking nonprofit, has been featured in an article in USATODAY.COM, the website of the nationally distributed newspaper. The video features current and former professional football players who speak against sex trafficking. The video, a part of an initiative called "Safe Zone Atlanta," notes that sex trafficking increases in cities, worldwide, when major sporting events occur. This release is a lead-up to the Super Bowl game in Atlanta this weekend. The video can be found on YouTube at https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ei1svq_W9Rs or as a part of the USA Today article at <https://www.usatoday.com/story/news/nation/2019/01/30/super-bowl-liii-atlanta-sex-trafficking-victim-police-fbi-prostitution/2658224002/>.

We are proud of Zachary for this very important work!
